Insert rightsholder’s name, position, organisation, address, fax number and email address

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am seeking your permission to copy and communicate the following work:

Provide full citation and description of what it is you want to copy and/or communicate

In the following manner:

Make this as broad as you can – e.g. ‘in any and all formats and media now known or hereafter devised, for the full term of the copyright’. But make sure you also describe how you want to use it in the immediate future – the copyright owners may delete some of the permissions). See below for some ideas - the examples are not exhaustive.

“In the following manner, in any and all formats and media now know or hereafter devised, for the full term of the copyright”:

- Inclusion in my thesis, (TITLE) which will be available online in the Australian Digital Theses Program; also future derivatives of my thesis, including, for example, journal articles, conference papers, and monographs.
- For the purposes of providing continuing access to my own publications, I seek permission to copy and communicate the work in any and all formats and media now known or hereafter devised, for the full term of the copyright.
- Use in a monograph I am proposing to publish – and details
- Use in a journal article – details – article title/s, journal/s
- Use online – details – eg website/ repository/database/
- Format shift to enable continued use of the audiovisual material with new technology.

If you are willing to authorise this use of the cited material, please complete the attached authorisation and return the entire document to:
